A NOTE FROM THE EDITORS—

The following information was obtained at Fairview Cemetery office. Fairview Cemetery has scrapbooks with obituaries beginning in 1932. If there was no obituary for the person, the newspapers were searched, and if an obituary could not be located, death records were checked. While searching we may have overlooked an obituary in the paper so there may be an obituary that is in the paper but not in the book. Obituaries in the scrapbook do not tell the date or the name of the newspaper they were clipped from. The newspaper date at the end of an entry is the day an obituary was supposed to be in the newspaper. However, that may be the location for a different obituary than the one in the scrapbook. Most of the obituaries in the scrapbook appeared to have come from a Louisville, KY newspaper. In some instances, such as in cases of an away death or an infant, neither an obituary nor a death record could be located.

The local victims, who were instantly killed at 6:30 o'clock Saturday night when a fast Monon passenger train struck their automobile at Evans Crossing, four and one-half miles north of New Albany, are: Walter Evans, Sr., 36 years old, disabled World War Veteran, who suffered a crushed chest and partially crushed face. Mrs. Norma Evans, 27, his wife, broken neck, crushed chest, and fractured arm and leg. William Lewis, 17, brother of Mrs. Evans, fractured skull and crushed chest. Funeral services for them will be held at 2:30 o'clock Tuesday afternoon at the home of Walter Emery, Grant Line Road. Burial will take place in Fairview Cemetery. Bonnie Sloan Post, American Legion, will conduct services at the grave of Evans, who was a member. The accident occurred while the victims were en route to their home from New Albany, where they had made purchases. They were passing through a lane off Grant Line Road and over an unprotected grade crossing when the train crashed into their sedan. The woman's body was carried more than a quarter of a mile on the cow-catcher and Lewis's body was taken the same distance in wreckage of the car. Evans, who is believed to have been in the rear seat, was thrown from the automobile about two blocks from the crossing. Mrs. Evans was driving the machine, according to relatives. The train crew removed her body from the pilot. Martin Ball, 1927 East Oak street, engineer of the train said he was running at a 'fair rate' of speed on a straight track, and that neither he nor Charles Henriott, New Albany, the fireman, saw the automobile approach the crossing. They heard the crash and Hall said he brought the train to a stop as quickly as he could. The couple leaves four children, Frank, 7; Irma, 5; Walter, Jr., 3, and Charles, 2. Mrs. Evans and Lewis are survived by their father, William R. Lewis; two sisters, Miss Pauline Lewis and Mrs. Hulda Emmanuel, and two brothers, Warren Lewis and McKnight Lewis. Evans is also survived by his mother, Mrs. Laura Evans. The latter said that the couple removed to the farm from New Albany several months ago on account of his health. Evans served overseas and was gassed in battle. His health since had been impaired. Dr. Frank T. Tyler, County Coroner, who viewed the scene of the accident, said he will hold an inquest the first of the week and get statements from the engineer, fireman and A. Pearson, conductor, of Lafayette, Ind.

Dieckman; ; 20392—One Shoots Self And Other Takes Dose Of Poison—Daughter Finds Her Father's Lifeless Body In Stable—Wife Discovers Mate Dead—Two New Albany men committed suicide at about the same time Tuesday. One drank poison and the other shot himself. Andrew Quinkert, 44 years old, 1109 Burton avenue, took carbolic acid about 6 o'clock last night at the home of his sister, Mrs. Charles W. Parish, 1749 Shelby street. His body was found nearly six hours later. Edgar Greenaway, 47, 2303 Spring avenue, is believed to have shot himself about 6 o'clock, a few minutes before his lifeless body was found by his wife, Mrs. Olive Weissinger Greenaway. Dr. Frank T. Tyler, County Coroner, held an inquest following the discovery of Greenaway's body and pronounced death due to a pistol wound inflicted with suicidal intent. Dr. P. H. Schoen, acting county Coroner, investigated the death of Quinkert and held he committed suicide by drinking carbolic acid. Dr. Schoen was summoned to the Parish home at 11:45 o'clock. In each case, the investigating physicians expressed the belief that the victim was mentally unbalanced. Quinkert, according to his attending physician, was mentally unsound, while a note was found written by Greenaway which indicated he had lost his reason. Discovery of the body of Quinkert was made by his daughter, Miss Helen Margaret Quinkert, who had gone to the home of her uncle and aunt after her father failed to come to his home for supper. The girl said Quinkert left early yesterday morning without eating breakfast. She said he told her he was going to work. For some time the victim had been acting queerly, relatives said, although he gave no indication that he intended suicide. He is said to have grieved over the death of his wife which occurred a year ago. When the Parish family started to retire about 11 o'clock last night, the girl was sent to the stable at the rear of the premises on an errand, and when she entered the shed she found her father. Thinking he was asleep and knowing he had been acting strangely, she did not disturb him but reported to her uncle. Parish made an investigation and discovered that Quinkert was dead. Near him was an empty bottle which had contained carbolic acid poison. The police and Dr. Schoen were summoned. The acting coroner said the victim had been dead about six hours. The body was removed to the funeral parlors of Elmer H. Dieckmann, 615 Vincennes street. Bewildered at the sight of the lifeless body of her husband, lying in a pool of blood in the bedroom of their home, Mrs. Greenaway remained at the side of her mate more than an hour before sounding an alarm. Arriving at the house at 6 o'clock, after an absence of two hours, during which she visited the downtown business district, Mrs. Greenaway she called to her husband, "Daddy here I am." She said this was her customary salutation upon arriving home, and that the victim always opened the door for her. When her husband failed to respond, the woman told County Coroner Tyler and investigating police she entered the house. "I found this note on the dining table," Mrs. Greenaway said, pointing to a note written on a half page in a tablet which was as follows; "Good-bye, honey, the pains in my head or to great I guess I am crazy." It was signed Edgar." Mrs. Greenaway said she went to the bedroom, where she found the body near the bed. A .38-calibre revolver lay near the victims right hand and blood was oozing from a wound in the head. "I was bewildered I did not know what to do," the woman said. "I got a glass of water and tried to make him drink." Mrs. Greenaway said she remained at the side of the body for "a long time." At 7:15 o'clock, the woman appeared at the grocery of John W. Holland, 224 Cost avenue, and asked him to accompany her to her home, saying that something had happened. Mr. Holland who accompanied by B. F. Seifres, 2223 Reno avenue, who was in the store at the time. En route to the residence, Mr. Holland asked Mrs. Greenaway what had happened and told him her husband had committed suicide. Mr. Seifres, upon reaching the bedroom, made an examination of the victim. He told the coroner he found the man dead but that his body was still warm. Asked how long he thought Greenaway had been dead, Mr. Seifres said, "I would judge an hour." Mrs. Greenaway said that while her husband was unusually cheerful during the day and had worked around the house, he had been complaining of trouble with his eyes. She said, however, that his general health had been good. A year ago, she told the coroner, her husband threatened to kill himself. She also told the coroner that the victim, who was a tile-setter, had not done much work during the past several months, but that he intended to go to work Wednesday. "He was planning to go in business for himself the first of the year." the woman said. When Mrs. Greenaway left the house at 4 o'clock in the afternoon, she said her husband insisted that she take a taxicab to take her downtown as she had missed the street car. "He kissed me good-bye and was so cheerful when I left," the woman said amid sobs. Dr. Tyler said that the bullet had entered near the base of the right side of the skull and came out the top of the head. He said the victim died instantly. Mrs. Greenaway asked several times of the physician whether he thought her husband had suffered before he died and was assured he had not. The couple were married six years ago according to Mrs. Greenaway. Surviving him besides his widow, is a daughter, Mrs. Angela Hafertini of Latonia, Ky., by a former marriage. Greenaway was a member of New Albany Lodge of Masons. The body was removed to the Dieckmann funeral parlors. Funeral services will be held at the residence at 2:30 o'clock Friday afternoon. Burial will be in Fairview Cemetery, with Masonic Lodge in charge of services at the grave. Hay, 35 years old, 1930 East Elm street, a deaf mute, who was instantly killed Saturday night near Nineteenth and Market streets, Louisville, when he was run down by a machine, were held Monday afternoon at the funeral chapel of Elmer H. Dieckmann, 615 Vincennes street. Burial was in Fairview Cemetery. Charles Smith, 20, of Middletown, Ky., who was the driver of the machine, was arrested on a charge of manslaughter, pending an investigation of the accident. According to two patrolmen, who were driving behind Smith, the accident appeared to be unavoidable. They said Hay ran from the north curb and stepped into the path of the automobile. Hay had been a member of the deaf-mute class of the DePauw Memorial Methodist Episcopal Church for eighteen years, and it is said he had never missed a meeting of the group. The victim was not married. He is survived by a sister, Mrs. Louis Lamke, 1909 East Oak street, and a brother, George W. Hay, 1910 East Elm Street; 24 Feb p 1 c 6

Heimer, 50 years old, 344 Thomas Street, New Albany, was found dead at 5 o'clock Sunday afternoon on a farm on the Budd Road, seven miles west of New Albany. Deputy Sheriff Marshall Wood reported that Heimer committed suicide. Deputy Sheriff Wood related that Heimer, who was visiting the owner of the farm, George Wheeler, 74, asked Wheeler if he had a revolver, and Wheeler handed the weapon to Heimer under the impression that Heimer just wanted to examine it. Later, Heimer walked into a barn, about seventy-five feet from the house in which he had been talking to Wheeler. Wheeler, who described himself as "hard of hearing," said he heard no shot, but when he missed Heimer, he went to the barn and found the body. Wheeler walked half a mile to notify authorities. Heimer is survived by six sisters, Mrs. Maggie Johnson, Kansas City, Mo.; Mrs. Carrie Williams, Mrs. Minnie Williams, Mrs. Mary Graham, Mrs. Elizabeth Gardner and Miss Kate Heimer, all of New Albany. Jackson, the only foreman The Louisville Time's composing room ever had until his retirement eight years ago, died at 9:25 o'clock Sunday night at his home, 1909 Elm Street, New Albany. Had "Cap'n" Jackson lived until November he would have celebrated his eightieth birthday anniversary. He had been ill for some time. Born in New Albany, "Cap'n" Jackson spent his entire life here. He was educated in the New Albany city schools. When a youth he learned the printing trade which he made his life's work. His first job as a printer was on the New Albany Ledger. The veteran printer married Miss Sarah L. Kirk April 4, 1872, two months before he went with the Courier-Journal. Twelve years later when The Times was established, He was appointed foreman of the Times' composing room. In his early days of printing linotypes and monotypes were beyond the realms of dreamland. Hand type was set in cylindrical "turtles" for use in a rotary press. In addition to his interest in the printing business, "Cap'n" Jackson had two hobbies—his camera and his phonograph. He was envied by professionals in the early days of photography for his skill in making pictures with his speed camera. "Cap'n" Jackson's fifty-one years of services in the work he loved, was marked by energy, enthusiasm and thoroughness. Henry Watterson was reported to have admonished him: "Frank, you old rascal, you're a hundred older than I am. Make the copy boy run these proofs a while." On the occasion of his retirement Cap'n Jackson was eulogized in a Times editorial "For fifty years or more Cap'n Jackson has had the blackest apron and the cleanest heart that ever worked in a printing room. His sure hand has dumped between column rules everything from the finest editorial of Mr. Watterson to the first story of the newest club," it was written of him. Mr. Jackson's one son, Edmund Jackson, followed him into the printer's trade. He is an employe in the composing room of The Times. Besides his son, Mr. Jackson is survived by five daughters, Mrs. Margaret Neat, Mrs. Nettie Randle, Mrs. Mary Perry, Mrs. Susan Borgerding, Elizabethton, Tenn., and Miss Nancy Jackson, and a brother, Will Jackson, an employe in The Times composing room. William Jenkins, 14 years old, son of Roscoe Jenkins, 714 Mosier avenue, is the victim. He was accidentally killed when the load of a single-barrel shotgun belonging to Edward Lemmon, his chum, blew the back of his head off. Stunned and with tear-dimmed eyes, Edward told the story of the accident to officers at the home of Sheriff Edward R. Meyer. The boys had been hunting since 7 o'clock Thursday morning on Silver Hills and were returning over Douglas Knob at 5:45 o'clock in the afternoon, when William asked permission of Edward to carry his gun. Edward met the request. "Now I have your gin," William said to his companion, and started to run away. As Edward was smiling at the childish prank, William tripped and fell. He was twenty-five feet from Edward. As the boy and gun struck the ground the weapon was discharged. Edward was momentarily paralyzed at the sight of the prostrate form of the boy. After a hasty investigation young Lemmon rushed to a nearby house to ask for aid. The Sheriff's office was called and Deputy Sheriff John Cureton went to the scene. Standing beside the dead boy was his companion. After being questioned by Assistant Prosecutor Roy Darneal, Deputy Sheriff Cureton and Acting County coroner P. H. Schoen, the latter returned a verdict of accidental death. When Edward was asked whether he and his companion had ever quarreled, he answered pitifully, "Me and him never fussed. We was always good friends." William would have entered the Fourth Grade of the West Spring Street School this fall. Edward said he was not attending school and that he was "not doing nothing." He is a son of Mr. and Mrs. Joe Lemmon, 807 West Eighth street. The victim's body was

- removed to the Elmer H. Dieckmann Chapel, 615 Vincennes street, and later was taken to the family residence. Charles C. Jones, 94 years old, veteran member of the old Hoosier Engine company, passed away at 5:45 o'clock Sunday morning at his home, 216 West Seventh street, following a lingering illness. In his life time he saw the successive changes in the local fire department which began its career with the man-drawn hand-pumper and hose carriage combined. For years volunteer firemen fought New Albany's fires. Responding to alarms, they pulled the apparatus to fires and also furnished the department's manpower. In due time this method of making runs and fighting fires was supplanted by an organized department with horse-drawn hose-carriages and hook-and-ladder. Then came the powerful motor machines with speed, pumpers and other modern equipment for fighting fires. One of the hand-drawn vehicles of the volunteer system is now a relic at No. 2 Engine House, East Fourth and Spring Streets. Mr. Jones often recalled the days of his experience as a fireman of New Albany. Interest in civic affairs prompted him to become a member of the department. He also served as a member of the City Council from the Sixth Ward more than a half century ago. Mr. Jones was a ship carpenter by trade and worked at his occupation until he was seventy-five years old. He was a native of Belleville, Ind., and came to New Albany when he was seven years old. Surviving are three daughters, Misses Mary H. and Margaret S. Jones, and Mrs. Harry Burd, all of New Albany; three sons, William Jones, Georgetown, Ind.; Lloyd Jones, New Haven, Conn., and Edward Jones of Holt, Ind., and five grandchildren. Just a few moments before the five occupants of the machine were laughing and happy. The accident occurred at 2: o'clock on Mount Tabor Road a short distance from State Road 33, three miles northeast of New Albany, at a sharp curve. Welton and his wife and Kinman were in the rear seat and William Bowen, 48 years old, 525 East Third street, and employe of the Interstate Public Service Company was driving, while Mrs.

George Simon, 35, 714 Cherry street, sat beside Bowen. According to Wade Breen, proprietor of a café on State street, who with Robert Proctor was at work on his summer home near the scene of the accident, the machine was traveling about thirty miles an hour. The occupants of the car were laughing, he said. The motor-party had gone just a short distance, Breen said, when he and Proctor were startled by a terrific noise as a result of the impact caused by the motor striking a tree on the curve of the road. Chester McCaffrey, a farmer in front of whose home the mishap took place was the first to reach the scene and Breen and Proctor followed. According to Breen, Bowen apparently did not realize he was at the curve in time to negotiate it with safety. The former said that the left rear wheel of the car slid off the road as Bowen started to swerve the machine and stuck some loose rock and skidded. The front left fender struck a large tree on the curve and in an instant, the machine was thrown violently against the tree. The car was partially wrapped about tree and then fell on its left side and slid three or four feet before it came to a stop. When Breen and Proctor reached the scene, they found Mrs. Simon on the road. She had climbed through a hole in the windshield. Mrs. Welton was crushed into one corner of the machine, partially buried beneath wreckage. Her husband's head was on that of his wife's mangled features and Kinman's body was flung over the front seat. Kinman and Mrs. Welton were dead. Breen, Proctor and McCaffrey extricated Bowen who was held fast in the front seat behind the steering wheel. Breen tore the top of the car away in order to make an opening to take the victims in the rear seat out of the car. As Welton was the only one of the three still breathing he was pulled out first and laid on the ground. He gasped several times as he was carried to the road. An ambulance from the George A. Kraft funeral establishment responded and Welton, Bowen and Mrs. Simon were hurried to St. Edward's Hospital. The former died on the way. Bowen was treated for a badly cut hand and cuts on the face, and Mrs. Simon for a deep gash across the nose. They were removed to their respective homes later on. Mrs. Welton's head was crushed, her features being beyond recognition. The face was cut in shreds and the bones in the skull were mashed. She also suffered deep cuts on the neck and both shoulders were broken. Her husband suffered a fractured skull, broken jawbones and probably internal injuries. Kinman suffered a broken neck and a few minor cuts. The machine was badly wrecked. The top was crushed in and debris crowded the interior of the machine. The left rear door was buckled by the impact and steel frame work was broken and twisted. Persons who saw the wrecked machine are at a loss to know how any of the occupants escaped death. Bowen told investigating officers that he was traveling about thirty miles an hour. He blames loose rock at the side of the highway for the accident. Among the officials who investigated the mishap were Sheriff William R. Helm, Lieut. R. B. Funk of the State motor police department, Prosecuting Attorney Chester V. Lorch and Chief of Police, Carl Million. No arrest was made. County Coroner Frank T. Tyler said this morning that we would interrogate Bowen and Mrs. Simon regarding the accident. He held a partial inquest yesterday when he gave the extent of the injuries of the victims. The bodies of Welton and his wife were removed to the Kraft funeral parlors and that of Kinman to the Chapel of Elmer H. Dieckmann. Mr. and Mrs. Welton are survived by one son, Charles Williams. Surviving Mrs. Welton are also her mother, Mrs. Mary Hollowell, a brother Alva Hollowell, of New Albany and four sisters, Mrs. Norma Jaukam of Louisville, and Mrs. Anna Arnold, Mrs. Jennie Deusch and Mrs. Ida Hecke all of New Albany. Mr. Welton is also survived by two brothers, Arch and Charles Welton and a sister, Mrs. Mary Maddox, of this city. Surviving Kinman are a daughter, Mrs. Frank Moore, a son, Walter Kinman and five grandchildren. Kinman who was better known here as "Red Kenney," by intimate friends, was a native of this city and always resided here. He was formerly employed at the old forge works. Welton was a city employe during the administration of Mayor Newton A. Greene. According to relatives of the aged victim, while he enjoyed motor rides, he always feared that some day he would be a victim of an accident. The tragedy is the second to take place in the Kinman family in three years. Two of the victim's young grandchildren were burned to death on Fourth of July when an improvised playhouse caught fire. The local victims, who were instantly killed at 6:30 o'clock Saturday night when a fast Monon passenger train struck their automobile at Evans Crossing, four and one-half miles north of New Albany, are: Walter Evans, Sr., 36 years old, disabled World War Veteran, who suffered a crushed chest and partially crushed face. Mrs. Norma Evans, 27, his wife, broken neck, crushed chest, and fractured arm and leg. William Lewis, 17, brother of Mrs. Evans, fractured skull and crushed chest. Funeral services for them will be held at 2:30 o'clock Tuesday afternoon at the home of Walter Emery, Grant Line Road. Burial will take place in Fairview Cemetery. Bonnie Sloan Post, American Legion, will conduct services at the grave of Evans, who was a member. The accident occurred while the victims were en route to their home from New Albany, where they had made purchases. They were passing through a lane off Grant Line Road and over an unprotected grade crossing when the train crashed into their sedan. The woman's body was carried more than a quarter of a mile on the cow-catcher and Lewis's body was taken the same distance in wreckage of the car. Evans, who is believed to have been in the rear seat, was thrown from the automobile about two blocks from the crossing. Mrs. Evans was driving the machine, according to relatives. The train crew removed her body from the pilot. Martin Ball, 1927 East Oak street, engineer of the train said he was running at a 'fair rate' of speed on a straight track, and that neither he nor Charles Henriott, New Albany, the fireman, saw the automobile approach the crossing. They heard the crash and Hall said he brought the train to a stop as quickly as he could. The couple leaves four children, Frank, 7; Irma, 5; Walter, Jr., 3, and Charles, 2. Mrs. Evans and Lewis are survived by their father, William R. Lewis; two sisters, Miss Pauline Lewis and Mrs. Hulda Emmanuel, and two brothers, Warren Lewis and McKnight Lewis. Evans is also survived by his mother, Mrs. Laura Evans. The latter said that the couple removed to the farm from New Albany several months ago on account of his health. Evans served overseas and was gassed in battle. His health since had been impaired. Dr. Frank T. Tyler, County Coroner, who viewed the scene of the accident, said he will hold an inquest the first of the week and get statements from the engineer, fireman and A. Pearson, conductor, of Lafayette, Ind.; 10 Aug 1931 p 1

Mullineaux; ; 20192—Boy Succumbs Twelve Hours After Mishap—Operator of Machine Faces Manslaughter Count For Hearing—Plan Through Probe—Louis Nance, 7 years old, son of Mr. and Mrs. John Nance, 32 West Fourth street, who was struck at noon Monday by a motor driven by Russell Bowling, 19, Silver Hills, died twelve hours later at St. Edward's Hospital. Tuesday morning Bowling was charged with involuntary manslaughter in the City Police Court and placed under $500 bond pending an inquest by County Coroner Frank T. Tyler. The date for the hearing has not as yet been fixed. The victim who suffered a fracture of the skull, died at 11:25 o'clock Monday night. An X-ray examination by Dr. Parvin Davis and Dr. William Garner earlier in the day revealed that the boy suffered fatal injuries. Bowling claims the accident was unavoidable. He declares he was driving twenty-five miles an hour and that he attempted to swerve his machine in order to avoid striking the child. A thorough investigation of the accident is to be made by the authorities, it is stated. A pathetic scene took place when the little victim was struck by the machine, which, according to witnesses, dragged the body some distance before it came to a stop. The mother of the boy witnessed the accident, and today is nearly prostrate with grief, as is also Miss Clara Moore, a teacher at the West Market Street School where the child attended. Mrs. Nance did not motion to her son to come to her just before the accident took place, as was originally reported. The mother, as was her daily custom, went to meet her sons, including the victim and his brother, John, 8 years old, who also attends the school. While waiting across the street, after dismissal of school yesterday, for her children, who with other pupils were being escorted across the thoroughfare by Miss Moore. Mrs. Nance saw the Bowling machine approaching. The victim, his brother and another little boy had hold of hands as they made their way from one sidewalk to the other. Sensing that an accident was impending, the mother threw her hands to her face to cover her eyes, and cried, "Oh, My". She had hardly done so, when the child was struck. Hearing the impact, the frantic mother looked when she saw the little fellow crumpled in the street, apparently lifeless. The woman ran to her child, when Bowling picked him up to take him to the hospital. According to witnesses of the accident, the child's shoes were knocked off his feet, and these the mother carried to her home. The accident occurred despite every precaution the teachers of the school have taken at dismissal time. Groups of pupils are escorted across the street by the teachers because of traffic conditions. In addition, traffic signs at either end of the block indicate the presence of a school zone. Neighbors in the vicinity of the school declare that while a majority of motorists drive with caution during dismissal of the school there are some who disregard the traffic signs and the fact children are crossing the street. The victim is survived, besides his parents, by four brothers, Frank, John, Walter and Robert Nance, and one sister, Mary Adaline Nance; his grandmother, Mrs. Mary Black, and grandfather, Clell Nance. The child was a member of the Sunday School of the First Church of the Nazarene. The body was taken to the home of Mr. and Mrs. Robert Davis, 313 West Main Street, relatives of the victim, pending funeral arrangements.: NAWL 7 Mar p 5 c 3 and NAT 4 Mar p1 c8.

While he left no note, and his mother, Mrs. Lula Newhouse, with whom he lived, could assign no reason for the deed, friends today expressed the belief that worry because of financial straits caused him to kill himself. Friends said he lost a good position last November on account of the business depression and that since then he had not found profitable employment. He is reported to have planned quitting this week the job of salesman he held with a Cincinnati concern because it was not paying. Newhouse returned home Saturday after a week's tour through Southern Indiana. The victim fired the fatal shot just as his mother called him for dinner. Hearing the shot she ran to the room where he was and found him unconscious with a pistol nearby. She notified the police and Capt. Oda L. Pyle and Patrolmen Clyde Whittinghill and Aden Byrd responded. Newhouse was still breathing when the officers arrived and they started to St. Edward's Hospital with him. He died in the police ambulance en route to the hospital. Dr. P. H. Schoen, acting county coroner, held an inquest at the house and returned a verdict of suicide. His mother, who is the only survivor, said that Newhouse apparently was in good health when he returned from his trip. She was hysterical when the police arrived. This morning the police learned that Newhouse figured in a motor accident Sunday morning near Six Mile Switch. According to the report received by the police, Frank Melmer, 25, 1905 East Oak street, was with Newhouse. The machine, the police learned, went over an embankment. Melmer jumped out neither he nor Newhouse was injured. The body will be removed from the family residence at 10:30 o'clock Tuesday morning to the chapel of Elmer H. For thirty years, Mrs. Nicklies suffered from rheumatic affliction but continued active in the management of the hotel. Seven months ago she was confined to her room. Her condition, however, did not become grave until Friday when she suffered sinking spells. After several organizations of local business men were unsuccessful in operating the hotel, Mrs. Nicklies bought the place seventeen years ago. Together with her three sons, Edward A., Jules and Louis H. Nicklies, and her grandson, Edward Flocken, she conducted the Tavern. Mrs. Margaret Flocken, a daughter of Mrs. Nicklies was also actively connected with the business until her death two years ago. Shortly after the new management took charge of the hotel it became the mecca for traveling salesmen visiting New Albany, and also for thousands of other out-of-town persons. Among some of the noted guests were the late William Jennings Bryan, Josephus Daniels, secretary of the navy in the Wilson Administration, late United States Senator Samuel Ralston, General John N. Thomas Joseph Oatman, native of New Albany, former showman and steamboat pilot on the Ohio River, died at 9:30 o'clock Monday morning at his home, 4310 Michigan Drive, Louisville. His death recalls the Castello, Williamson & Oatman Circus, which was organized in New Albany in 18-1[illegible, may be 1881] and which hit the rocks the same season because of bad weather. The members of the show company were Captain Oatman, who was general manager; Dan Castello, one of the leading clowns with the P. T. Barnum Circus, who was ring-master; Charles Williamson, financier, and Alex Palmer, of the Palmer Pawn Shop, secretary-treasurer and ticket seller. Mr. Palmer, who was 61 years old August 19, is the only survivor of his circus associates. Castello was one of the noted showmen of the country in the nineties. According to Mr. Palmer, after the show was organized here it went on the road and from the beginning of the season to the end it ran into bad weather. As a result of the experiences, the circus was abandoned. From 1890 to 1907, Captain Oatman was connected with some of the larger shows of the county and held financial interests in a number of them. He became widely known in circus circles. Prior to entering the show business, Captain Oatman was a pilot on some of the largest steamers plying the Ohio River. He was born in New Albany December 12, 1854, and lived here for many years. Surviving are his widow; four step-children, and nieces and nephews, including Mrs. C. E. Hegewald, Mrs. R. W. Grant, Miss Elsie McCulloch and Charles A. and Thomas R. McCulloch. The centenarian whose vitality had been slowly ebbing for a month, died at 5:15 o'clock this morning at the home of his daughter, Mrs. Lula Roose, 214 East Main street, with whom he had been living for several years. Mr. Rodrick who was the oldest person in Floyd County, was also one of the oldest residents of Indiana. Although the weight of years enfeebled him physically during the past several months, he was able to be on the street and was frequently seen making his way to and from the barber shop. These weekly trips he made through last summer, despite the intense heat. Mr. Rodrick attributed his longevity to moderation in eating and drinking. In his last interview with a representative of The Tribune he said, "People today eat too much stuff and they are dying by their stomachs." Excepting for an attack of influenza four years ago and is fatal illness. Mr. Rodrick always enjoyed excellent health and was never attended by a physician until his recent attack. His menu included beef well boiled, dry bread and strong coffee. He said he never tasted pastries and scorned sweets of all kinds. Guided by the advice of an eminent physician he once met in Paris, Mr. Rodrick ate a hearty breakfast, and a light dinner and supper. Although an incessant smoker of cigarettes, he was opposed to over-indulgence in intoxicating liquor. He, however, believed that drinking was the individual business. Mr. Rodrick was born in San Diego, Calif., August 16, 1827, [article is continued, but not on file at the cemetery]NAWL 5 Jun 1931 p7 c3: Frank Rodrick, 104 Years Old Dies—Frank Rodrick, 103 years old, regarded as the oldest inhabitant of Southern Indiana, died at 3:45 o'clock Thursday at the home of his stepdaughter, Mrs. Lula Roose, 214 East Main Street. He would have been 104 August 16. Born in San Diego, of Spanish and Irish descent, Mr. Rodrick was a rover and in his later days loved to tell of the adventures born of his wanderlust. When a boy he left San Diego with a brother for South America. His brother died on the trip and Mr. Rodrick returned to San Diego, where he married. His wife died at the age of 75, about twenty years ago. Continuing his adventurous career Mr. Rodrick went abroad, joined the French Army and fought in the Crimean War. Later he was in the United States Navy. About thirty years ago he opened a small store in New Albany, but was not satisfied with confinement and bought a farm on State Road 150. He worked in the open every day until four years ago when he became too feeble and moved to Mrs. Roose's home. Mr. Rodrick used to say he had been sick only once in his life. He took walks alone until his final illness a few days ago and used tobacco in every form. Besides Mrs. Roose, he is survived by a grandson and six great-grandchildren. He was a member of the Holy Trinity Catholic Church.

& I. bridge, who disappeared early Wednesday morning was found in the Ohio River a quarter of a mile east of the bridge. It is believed the victim was drowned some time after 1 o'clock yesterday morning, as that was the last time he was seen by companions at Sand Island. The body was found twenty-five feet from the shore by David Daugherty, a son-in-law; William Sperzel and Dallas McIntyre, who made up a searching party. Dr. Frank T. Tyler, County Coroner, returned a verdict of "accidental drowning." He said he found no marks on the body. Doggie Watson, 38, and Alva Jeffries, 23, both of this city, told the police that they were with Sands before he met his death. Watson said he swam back to the Indiana shore and reported the disappearance. Jeffries, who was taken into custody in Louisville yesterday on a charge of vagrancy, was returned to New Albany today by Patrolmen Charles Schindler and Lee Deich to answer to a charge of petit larceny. The patrolmen said Jeffries told them that twelve men made up a party on the island and that a gallon of liquor was consumed. He told the police, they said, that he "passed out" and did not know anything about Sand's drowning. The victim was formerly employed at the plant of the Ohio Falls Iron Company but had not been working for some time. His body was removed to the Seabrook Chapel, East Twelfth and Market streets. Mullineaux; ; 20588—Mrs. Spence Dies of Fatal Hurts—First Worthy Matron Struck By Hit-Run Driver Thursday—Taxi Operator Is Quizzed—Mrs. Fannie Spence, "Mother of New Albany Eastern Star," the first worthy matron of the order in this city, was fatally injured Thursday night when she was struck by an automobile shortly after she left a meeting of New Albany Chapter. The police are looking for a hit-and-run motorist who is believed to have struck the woman. Dr. Frank T. Tyler, County Coroner, who made an examination of the injuries, said Mrs. Spence must have been struck a terrific blow by a car traveling at a high rate of speed. According to the Coroner, the victim's skull was fractured, her head was severely lacerated, her chest was crushed, both legs were broken and one arm was fractured. The woman was struck somewhere near the intersection of East Seventh and Spring streets at 10:30 o'clock while she was crossing the street on her way home from the Eastern Star meeting at the Masonic Temple a short distance from the scene of the accident. It was first learned that Mrs. Spence had been struck when a machine driven by Louis Lukemeier of the 1000 Taxi, formerly the Public Taxi company, ran over the body between Seventh street and the alley west of the intersection. Lukemeier reported to the police. He said that there was no one crossing the street at the time and that he stopped his automobile when he said he felt his car "run over something." Councilman Harry Daniel, who was standing at the intersection waiting for a west-bound streetcar, corroborated Lukemeier. He said that he had been at the corner for several minutes before the taxi driver made his appearance and that no one had crossed the street during that time. Daniel said that his attention was attracted when he heard the taxi driver suddenly apply his brakes. The councilman said he thought perhaps Lukemeier stopped on account of tire trouble. When he walked to where the car was standing he said Lukemeier was out of his machine making an investigation. The automobile, it is stated, bore no marks which would indicate that it struck the woman. Lukemeier was questioned by the police and Prosecuting Attorney William B. Jones after the accident again Friday morning. Investigators declared that the taxi was going west on Spring street and that blood in the street indicated that the accident happened farther towards the south side of the street. Mrs. Spence was taken to St. Edward's Hospital, where an examination revealed she was dead. The taxi driver after being questioned at the police station following the accident, was released on his own recognizance pending a further investigation. Mrs. Spence was the first woman to be elected worthy matron of the Eastern Star of New Albany which was organized in 1907. She always took a lively interest in the affairs of the organization and attended the meetings regularly of New Albany and LaBelle Chapters, being a member of the latter. During the meeting last night, when informal remarks were made, one member commented, "This may be the last time that all of us will be together." Shortly afterwards the social session began and the victim left for her home. Mrs. Spence, who was the widow of chief of Police Thomas E. Spence, is survived by a daughter, Mrs. Fannie Diekmann, with whom she resided at 413 Bank street; a son, James W. Spence, New Albany; a half-brother, James Richey, Jeffersonville, and four grandchildren. Mrs. Spence was a member of Park Christian church. The body was removed to the chapel of Thomas Mullineaux, East Spring street, pending funeral services, which will be held at 2 o'clock Sunday afternoon at Park Christian Church. The Eastern Star will hold its rituals at the church following services by the Rev. W. D. Bartle. Burial will be in Fairview Cemetery. December 9, 1930, Benjamin Dyson was killed and his wife was seriously injured in the vicinity of the accident which claimed the life of Mrs. Spence. The aged couple was going to catch a Silver Hills street car after attending meetings at the Masonic Temple. Mrs. Dyson attended a meeting of New Albany Chapter of Eastern Star. Both were struck by an automobile while crossing the street.; 19 Dec 1931 p6 & 18 Dec 1931 p 1 c 6.

Mullineaux; ; 20217—Friend of Veterans Here Dies Suddenly—Mrs. Nannie A. Young, secretary of the Home Service Department of New Albany Red Cross Chapter, who worked untiringly for World War veterans and their dependents for nearly twelve years, died unexpectedly at 9:25 o'clock Sunday morning at the home of her brother, John C. Lutz, 1318 East Spring Street. She was stricken last Wednesday with erysipelas and forced to leave her post. Her condition was not serious and she was expected to recover. At 8 o'clock yesterday morning, however, she made a sudden turn for the worse when her physician said she could not recover. Mrs. Young had been in poor health for more than an year, following a slight stroke of paralysis, but despite her condition she continued to work. When the Red Cross chapter was organized here during the World War, Mrs. Young was appointed secretary of the Home Service Department, which position she held until she was stricken. As a result of her duties she was brought in contact with several hundred veterans and their dependents, and succeeded in procuring Government aid for scores of them. Mrs. Young was truly a friend of the ex-service man. She sided him in many ways. She listened to his stories of suffering and sacrifice and to his humor. She sympathized with him and advised him. Hardly a day passed from the time the war ended until she became ill that she was not engaged in behalf of veterans or their dependents. Her work became a passion with her, and as time went on she grew more interested in it. Among those who sought her aid were her "regular guests," boys who paid her frequent visits to repeat their stories and to receive her words of cheer. The work proved trying at times and no doubt made inroads on her robust health. The National Red Cross on more than one occasion paid high tribute to her work. The records of the local officer were as complete as could be found anywhere in the state. Mrs. Young was a native of Jeffersonville, but had resided in New Albany since 1889. She was 61 years old and was the widow of Charles Young. Surviving are a son, Wayne Young, of St. Petersburg, Fla., and the one brother of New Albany. She was a member of Central Christian Church and for many years took an active interest in the affairs of the Ladies' Aid Society. Funerals services will be held at 2:30 o'clock Tuesday afternoon at the Central Christian Church, the Rev. Mark Anthony officiating. Burial will be in Fairview Cemetery; 7 Apr 1930 p1 c4.
